NEW YORK, Dec. 6.-The charge made by Matthew Jephson O'Rourke that $15. duplicated and that the Comptroller's office has kept the matter covered up for the last twenty-five years, is in a fair way to be completely investigated at last.

O'Rourke was a clerk in the office during the Tweed days. He is an old man now, and a vindictive, testy old man at that, but a citizen's committee, which during the past six months has gone into his alle rations, and the mass of docum ses, is convinced that his story is a true one. Last summer a committee was son and George W. Stokes at its head Ex-Judge Arnoux was engaged as counsel and hearings were held in the rooms of the Board of Trade and Transportati O'Rourke held back for a long time, plead-ing his reluctance to produce his documents until positively convinced that the committee would not drop the matter.

Finally he told his story.

Lawyers Ferris and Stokes went before Judge Andrews of the Supreme Court with an application for a summary investigation and examination of the Comptroller's of fice. Judge Andrews took them to Judge Patterson, who was siting in chambers, and they filed a petition, the material part of which was as follows:

part of which was as follows:

The application was directed at Deputy

Comptroller Stowes, first, because he has been in the Comptroller's department for twenty-five years and had charge during that time of the issuance of all bonds, and, second, because certain charges which the citizens' committee wish to make outside of the O'Rouke matter are in the Comptroller's department. O'Rouke, it is said, does not expect to make any money out of the exposure now, though in previous years, when he has endeav-ored to get newspapers and organizations to take up the charges, he has always stipulated that large sums of money should be paid for his information.

ARBITRATION OF STRIKES

Lynn Boyd Herndon is the man arrested in Arizona for this crime. He formerly lived here and is extensively connected in this section. About seventeen years ago, together with his father's family, he moved to Kansas. How long he lived in that State is not known to his relatives here, but it is said that he has roamed around there for several years. Last night he poured telegrams into his kinsmen at this place, telling of his arrest at Tombstone, Ariz., charged with having defrauded an insurance company of a large sum and probably with the murder of the supposed Hillman at Valley Falls, Kan., in 1878. The telegrams were urgent and the relatives of Herndon here are solicitous about his sit-uation, so much so, in fact, that Dr. J. E. Neeley, a relative of his, left for Tombstone today to identify Herndon and help him out of his trouble

It is thought that Herndon is accused by a peculiar chain of circumstances, but his relatives here, from what they know of the case, do not believe him guilty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.-The Senate committee on Commerce today had under consideration the question of a trip to the Pacific Coast authorized by the last ses sion of Congress, for the purpose of inrestigating the relative merits of San Pedro and Santa Monica as the place for accommodation of the business of Los Angeles. It was decided to ask the Senate to authorize an inspection to be made immediately after the adjournment next

The entire time of the House today was occupied in the discussion of the Railroad Pooling Bill, to which there appears to be a great deal of opposition. No action, however, was taken on the bill today. Messrs. Cooper of Florida, Graham of Texas, Morse of Massachusetts, and Daniels of New York took part in the de-bate. The former directed his opposition to the section giving the railroads the power to carry questions relating to the revocation of pooling orders into the courts and offering a substitute giving the Interstate Commerce Commission abso the control over all pending contracts.

Messrs. Graham and Morse favored the bill, while Mr. Daniels attacked it, on the ground that it would subvert the efforts of the interstate commerce law.

For the reconsidera-tion of the joint resolution of the House States Senators by the people, and such other measures, including the appropriation bills as the steering comm deem important. It is provided that, in their report to the caucus the "steering committee" shall provide the order in ommittee" shall provide of legislation shall be considered.

The caucus was in session from 2 o'clock until 4:40 o'clock today, and almost the entire time was devoted to the discussion of the first proposition of Senator Daniels instructing the Committee on Rules to bring an amendment for a cloture and the speeches were at times very spirited Senators Vest, Vilas, Berry and George made speeches favoring the proposition, while Senators Gorman, Morgan, Palmer, Harris, Pugh and others opposed it with vigorous warmth.

The opponents of a change evidently had the best of the argument from the beginning. It is understood that they evoked the ghost of the force bill and urged that if the Republicans should this mean The protest against the proposed changes was so general that when a vote was taken no one considered it necessary to ask for the yeas and nays. When the cloture provision was defeated, the friends of the tariff bill gave up the fight, considering it unnecessary to make any attempt to revive their consideration in view of the opposition of a-majority of the Republicans, and because of the fact that any determined opposition under the rules would insure their defeat. Hence it is that those bills do not appear in the official list of bills to be presented for the consideration of the Senate. The order for a preparation of the currency bill by the Finance Committee carries with it instructions to take the recommendation of the President and Sec retary of the Treasury into consideration It is also understood that a feasible propo sition for the utilization of silver is to be included in any currency scheme pre

Peru, was received.

Senator Turple took the floor for a carefully-prepared report on the resolution for the election of Senators by a direct vote of the people. He said:
"When we recall the harsh discrimina-tions, gross charges of pecuniary corrup-tion and of fraudulent combination and

At the close of Mr. Turple's speech Senator Morgan of Alabama gave notice that on Monday next he would call up the Nicaragua Canal Bill, with a view to explaining it and making some remarks. Senator Dolph of Oregon called up the bill exempting from duty foreign exhibits at he Portland (Or.) exposition, and the bill was passed.

A bill was passed for the dedication of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park, September 19 and 20, 1895, under the direction of the Secretary of War, and then, at 1:55 o'clock p.m., the Senate went into executive session, and at 1:55 o'clock adjourned until Monday.

reported the Fortification Appropriations Bill, which was disposed of. Mr. O'Neill of Massachusetts reported the Pension Ap-propriations Bill. Consideration of the Railroad Pooling Bill was resumed under the special order adopted yesterday.

Mr. Cooper of Florida, a member of the Commerce Committee, declared the bill had four important features. It authorized and legalized railroad pooling, and, in doing so, it gave a new grant of power to all the railroads of the country; it provided amendments to the procedu section of the present law, in prescribing rules of evidence, which was a good feature; it changed wholly the criminal liability for discrimination in rates, and lastly, it changed the remedies for cause of action. While he doubted the advisability of granting pooling powers to rail-roads, he was willing to agree that if such pooling should be allowed it should such pooling should be allowed it should be under the direct control of a responsi be under the direct control of a responsible commission. He offered a substitute ble commission to the bill.

to meet his objections to the bill.

Mr. Manderson of Iowa asked if the fact that small shippers under a pooling system would not be able to get the advantages of the low rates now given big shippers, would not justify the passage of a law legalizing peoling.

Mr. Cooper replied that that was the only consideration which could induce him to vote to authorize pooling, but he would not do so unless safeguards and restrictions not contained in this bill were provided to prevent the abuse of this proposed enlargement of the charter pow-

He said: "When young Loughborough shot at me, my hands were down and I was going away from him. He did not shoot in self-defense; he shot deliberately."

Rosenfeld then told how Loughborough dropped a dice on the floor and how he pointed it out to him with his cane. Instead of thanking him, Loughborough kicked the cane out of the way and struck him. Rosenfeld returned the blow and followed it up with several others. When he thought he had punished Loughborough enough he walked away, and it was then that he was shot.

Whitehouse, the other young man who fell a victim to Loughborough pistol, corroborated Rosenfeld's story. Whitehouse said that when Loughborough spistol, corroborated Rosenfeld's story. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6.—The Johnson-Maber contest took place in the Olympic Club arena tonight, in the presence of the largest audience that ever assembled in the club on a prize fight occasion. The purse was $1500 of which $200 was to go to the loser.

The fight from start to finish was a mixture of boxing, wrestling and talking, with more than usual abuse by the tongue, which the principals gave each other. Each lick seemed to be accompanied by a curse, and in the twenty-fourth round the men were wrestling so flercely that the referee had to separate them.

From a scientific point of view, the at-fair was a magnificent fizzle, and the ring in which the men fought was plowed up to such an extent as to make the audience believe the men had been fighting a week Maber was tailer than his opponent, and should have won the battle, though he seemed to lack the physical form necessary to do so.

In the twenty-fifth round Maber being forced down in the clinch, took several secon's on the floor, and after rising the men wrestled a bit more. At the end of the twenty-fifth round, Referee Duffy's decision declaring the fight a draw was received with rounds of applause.

At last, on advice of Attorney Luther Lafin Mills, Dr. Janns fitted a small telephone in his hat with a gold wire trailing behind which was connected with a telephone outside the lawyer's office, at which two receivers were stationed, a detective and a stenographer. Entering the lawyer's office, Dr. Janns declares that he easily induced Ioas to again admit that he had written the letter. Then Dr. Janns exhibited his telephone and explained to the satounded lawyer that he had been talking through the doctor's hat, and secured his arrest.

At 9:30 o'clock this morning, Gen. Hart At 9:30 e'clock this morning, Gen. Hart resumed his argument. He was once more in good voice. His excoriation of the detectives, Judge Armstrong, Supervisor Casselman and others was even more mercliess than heretofore. The latter he described as a railroad emissary who stands with his ear to the keyhole to hear those who are testifying. He made a vivid word-painting of hired attorneys, persistent detectives and perjured witnesses, backed by all that wealth, power and influence can command, hounding a nesses, backed by all that wealth, power and influence can command, hounding a guiltless man to the gallows, and then contrasted it with the picture of despairing wife, an affectionate sister and devoted parents, hopeful but almost helpless on account of the stings of poverty. Day after day, he said, they had anxiously watched the faces of the jurors for some indication of the thoughts passing in their minds. Night after night they had lifted their prayers to heaven that a loved member of their family may be sent out of the courtroom at the close of the trial without a stain upon his character. Gen. Hart closed at noon, having occupied nearly eight hours in the delivery of his argument.

At 1:30 o'clock, Attorney Cook began his argument.

At 1:30 o'clock, Attorney Cook began his argument for the prosecution. He began by saying that the duty he felt called upon to perform is the most painful appertaining to the profession of the law, as it involves responsibilities that, as an individual, he might well wish to avoid, but, as an officer of the law, he had taken a oath not to shirk his duty. Cook's opening was very impressive, and was listened to in breathless silence.

"If am not here," said he, "to employ any of the tricks of oratory or arts of eloquence to persuade you to do anything that, the evidence does not compel wou to do under oath as a fury. It is no part of the prosecution to appeal to passion and prejudice, or to be influenced by malice. It is as much the duty of the prosecuting officer to protect the defendant as it is to protect the interests of the people. One-fourth of the cases tried by me during four years' service as Assistant District Attorney were dismissed on my own motion because as to guilt.

"For twelve hours I have listened to the argument of the defense, hoping that some doubt would be raised in my mind. It ried to divest myself of the feeling of an attorney and sit as a juror. I have heard nothing that shakes my condidence of the guilt of the accused. A great deal of the argument for the defense has been in the nature of violent assault upon everybody connected with the prosecution save my-self. Mr. Hart knows that I would not lend myself to malicious prosecution. He knows that I cannot be hirod by any corporation of the miletous prosecution.

self. Mr. Hart knows that I would not lend myself to malicious prosecution. He knows that I cannot be hired by any corporation or any man on earth to persecute an innocent man, but that when I am employed I will do my duty regardless of consequences, and whelly uninduced by malice or improper motives."

Cook deplored the frequency and bit terness of the allusions of counsel for the defense to the special counsel employed and ably quoted the language of Webster in his reply to a similar assault made upon him when he was prosecuting Mc-Nabb for the murder of old man White in Massachusetts, He then requested the jury to acquit Hatch, ff, upon the conclucion of the argument there existed a doubt for which a reason could be given. He fild not want any man convicted of a crime unless the evidence fully established his guilt.

unless the evidence fully established his guilt.

"A murder," said he, "which results from the commission of a felony, although murder may not be premeditated is, nevertheless, murder in the first degree. It is a dastardly and atrocious crime for men to obstruct or weaken a track in a manner that must inevitably result in a wreck and the loss of life." He declared that Samuel Clark and the four soldiers killed on the 11th of July were hurled to destruction without warning and that the men responsible for the wreck were guilty of an atrocious crime.

Cook then directed his attention to Gen. Hart's allegation that a great corporation, and not the people, is behind this prosecution. "Its trains" said he, poration, and not the people, is behind this prosecution. "Its trains" said he, "have been stopped; its property has been destroyed; its employees have been murdered, and the lives of its passengers had been jeopardized. The people demanded that the railroad should take an interest in the case. It is its duty to protect its passengers. Without the evidence of the railroad officials and employees there could be no prosecution in this case."

there could be no prosecution in this case."

The Presecuting Attorney next dwelt upon the injustice of attempting to inflame public opinion and arouse public prejudice, by alleging that the defendant is poor, while the prosecuting witnesses are slaves of a wealthy corporation. Quoting Gen. Hart's declaration: "I use these bitter terms because I feel bitter," Cook said: "No attorney is justified in using such an expression. No attorney ought to harbor any bitterness in this trial." He then began a rapid review of the testimony, but at 4:30 o'clock a recess was taken until 7 o'clock. Cook will not conclude before tomorrow.

The trial of Appelman is set for Friday. Hart and Gaddis have been retained for the defense.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—The grand jury has finished its report which will be filed in the Superior Court this week. The jury studied especially the police-court system of San Francisco, which is characterized as unworthy and useless. The furors found that some police judges have been derelict in duty, spending only an hour or two a day at their court rooms. The report states that the work now performed by four police judges could be done as well by two sitting through ordinary judicial hours, and the abolition of two police courts, which would involve an annual saving of $35,000, is rigorously recommended.

The extraordinary laniancy of certain po-

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—Justice of the Peace Cook rendered a decision today against the Pullman Palace Car Company in the suit of Charles Peak against that corporation. The plaintiff sought to recover the value of a coat and vest stolen from him while occupying a berth in one of the company's cars on a trip to Los Angeles last June. In an extended review of the testimony, the Justice said:

"It was in proof that near midnight the plaintiff went into the smoking-room of the car and there found the colored porter, whose duty it was to keep watch and ward over the car and its occupants, sound asleep. While the plaintiff was asleep, some unknown person removed his coat and vest from a hook at the berth he occupied. Hue and cry were made on the following morning and all the officers and servants of the company were notified of the loss.

"If, through want of care, the personal effects of a passenger are stolen, the company is liable and cannot avoid its liabili-and servants of the company were notified of the loss.

"If, through want of care, the personal effects of a passenger are stolen, the company is liable and cannot avoid its liability by posting in the car a notice disclaiming responsibility. Notice printed on tickets or checks can in no way limit the liability of carriers. A passenger cannot be expected to come into a car naked. If a passenger cannot have protection for the clothes he wears; if he cannot be allowed to undress and go to bed with the knowledge that his personal effects are undercareful guard, then the sleeping-car service is a delusion and a snara. Instead of being a place of rest where a passenger can ricep, feeling himself secure from theves, it becomes a robber's rookery."

Justice Cook then paid his compliments to the colored porter as follows: "The defense exaits the colored porter, who has the almost exclusive charge of the sleeping-cars in this country, into an angel of light and virtue, which the experience of most travelers does not warrant. I myself have had much experience with this kind of colored gentry. I know he must eat, sleep and wear clothes like a white man. He likes good wearing apparel, and he is willing and ready to get it, especially if he gets it for nothing."

In giving judgment for the plaintiff, Justice Cook held that the Pullman Company was under all circumstances required by law to make good the losses sustained by travelers while riding in its cars.

the shot that killed Miss Catherine Ging. Harry T. Hayward, his brother, the young business man whose relations with Miss Ging have been investigated from every conceivable standpoint, was arrested earlier in the evening also charged with murder in the first degree. The police authorities state the arrests have been made after much deliberation. Considerable damaging evidence against the Haywards was secured the during the day.

Hayward is brought into the case because of a number of circumstances, most brominent of which is his alleged knowledge of the making of the loans or the forms gone through with. Concerning this Andy Hayward is said to have made conflicting statements. At the same time, the officers state that the suggestion of the money not being genuine may be found worthy of consideration and that this scheme of duping the woman will be in line with the theory that there was a conselection and the conspiracy theory relates to the pains taken by Hayward to authenticate the naking of the last loan. The witnesses were called fin. whereas previous transactions of a like nature were made without the least apearance of preçautions.

The insurance was made incontestable. These facts are held to be inconsistent with the easy-going way in which Hayward had been dealing with the woman.

pecially Germany. Chicago leads in the number of delegates, and is aggregate upon the export matter.

The Exchange Executive Committee was called to order a little after noon by President W. H. Thompson of Chicago, and the preliminary work was soon disposed of. The question of the war upon American cattle by foreign countries came early to the front, and the introduction of a memorial to Congress, with relation to the existing state of affairs. Its reading was met with signs of approval by a majority of those present, and, from outward appearances, seemed to express the consensus of opinion of the delegates. The presentation of the paper was preceded by an explanation of its purpose, viz.: The obtaining of relief from Congress from the unfortunate embargo placed on a few American products, namely, live stock, dressed beef and hog products, on account of duties imposed by the recent tariff act upon raw and refined sugar from Germany, France, Belgium, Denmark and Austria, thus practically closing these markets to the United States, continuance of which means disaster to the farming and live-stock interests of this country. The paper goes on:

"From 1840 to a very recent date we have enjoyed a large business with those countries, particularly Germany and France. This was undoubtedly because of the fact that in the new tariff no duty was imposed by the United States upon raw have enjoyed a large business with those countries, particularly Germany and France. This was undoubtedly because of the fact that in the new tariff no duty was imposed by the United States upon raw sugar. Under those circumstances these countries could well afford to adapt their farm-lands and their efforts to raising beets for sugar production and depend almost entirely upon us for their animal food supply. Heretofore we have been enabled to send our product to them, while they in turn sent raw and refined sugar to the United States.

"The recent placing of a tariff on raw sugar has destroyed this commerce, for it is an unquestionable fact that the action of these countries is wholly and entirely due to the attitude of our tariff measures in relation to the exportation of sugars, and it must be conceded that livestock and dressed beef shipments will continue to suffer so long as the present laws on sugar are in force. The excuse which is given by these foreign countries for their action in excluding our animal products is on account of Texas fever, but this is understood to be a mere subterfuge. From 1890, when the exchange of commerce went into effect, up to a recent date, these countries had not discovered an unhealthy animal among all the cargoes which we have exported, nor a diseased piece of meat. Indeed, the rigid inspection in this country which is given to all such products before shipment abroad is sufficient guarantee of the quality and the healthy condition of all our animal food products, especially when coupled with the fact of our placing this obnoxious tax on their raw and refined sugars, and should this be removed or modified at once we know there would be no turther fault found with our cattle and hogs. We urge immediate action on the part of Congress toward repealing the own refined, thus restoring our pleasant on mentioned is found in the fact of our placing this obnoxious tax on their raw and refined sugars, and should this be removed or modified at once we know there would be no further f also the farming districts of this country will be very greatly crippled and our livestock interests very badly injured, as our home consumption is not sufficient to absorb more than a small percentage annually of what we raise. Millions of dollars worth of cattle and hogs and their products have been exported annually from this country to Germany and other countries, and until the existing embargo is raised from our cattle, dressed beef and hog products, the loss of this outlet will be very great and cause irreparable injury to us."

One Italian Loses His Eye and Another His Cash at the Hands of the "Finest"-Father Ducey.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Father Ducey's attendance upon the sessions of the Lexow Committee has not been intermitted. The clergyman said he had not received a reply to his last letter to Archbishop Corrigan. Another notable attendant at the early sitting of the committee was Mrs. E. B. He had not sued to recover damages because he thought it would be impossible to re-ceive justice in a suit against a police-

August E. Costello, the author of "Police Protectors," explained how he lost $1000 through the police board of this city. His book was published under the auspices of the police board, and he was to receive 20 per cent. of the proceeds. Superintendent Byrnes's book, "Great Criminals of New York," appeared simultaneously with "Police Protectors," and when the former was placed upon the market the latter was thrown back on Costello's hands, causing a great loss to him. The book caused trouble between the witness and Inspector Williams, and in November, 1886, he was arrested by Williams and given over to two detectives and sent to Capt., now inspector, McLaughlin's precinct.

civen over to two detectives and sent to Capt., now Inspector, McLaughlin's precinct.

"Just as I stepped on the bottom step of the station someone stepped out of a shadow at the side and struck me in the face. As I lay in the gutter covered with blood and mud, Capt. McLaughlin tried to kick me in the face. I warded off the blow with my umbrella, and finally ran into the station-house, where I thought I would be protected. The detectives made no effort to help me. In the station-house Capt. McLaughlin struck me with a pair of brass knuckles. As the result of the way McLaughlin abused me I was in bed five days, and had to call in Dr. Jenkins. I never made any complaint to the police board because I was humiliated, and knew the police would put a different face on things if I made any complaint. Therefore I desisted."

Dr. William Jenkins, now Health Officer and a brother-in-law of Richard Croker, was called, and testified that he had attended Costello at the time, and thought he had been struck with brass knuckles.

Frank W. Sanger was the first witnoss before the Lexow Committee today. He stated that he was manager of the Madison Square Garden. Since he held that position there had been five boxing exhibitions there. The witness testified that on the night of the Corbett-Mitchell contest William Brady, Corbett's manager, came to him and drew $250 from the box office to pay the police to allow the exhibition to go on.

"At whose demand did Mr. Brady pay"

"At whose demand did Mr. Brady pay the money?"

"I understand it was Capt. Schmittberger's. The money was charged to Mr.
Brady's personal account."

William A. Brady was then called and denied the story. He said he drew about 70 per cent, of that amount and gave it to the stage manager, Benjamin Sherwood, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the show.

"Weil, Mr. Sanger has sworn that you drew $250 to pay Capt. Schmittberger," said Goff. "Did he perjure himself when he swore to that?"

At-first Brady refused to answer this question, but subsequently said Sangar's question, but subsequently said Sanger's statement was substantially true. Brady denied that he paid any money to the po-ice for the exhibition after Corbett had de-teated Sullivan.

sides of the car to protect the engineer or to prevent robbers from making an entry.

The car has a double floor and a double roof and at each end is a messenger's compartment, from which he may shoot along the sides of the car from outwardly swinging sections provided with portholes, or through portholes in its end. At the opposite sides of the car, adjoining each messenger's compartment, are strongly-formed barred compartments, or cages, for the reception of safes, etc., each cage being reached by a door opening in the body portion of the car. A pasageway is left on one side of each cage from the messenger's room to the central portion of the car. This pasageway is designed to be closed at each end by doors carried on the endsof a platform pivoted between the floors, the doors being thus simultaneously opened and closed and the arrangement being such that a robber on gaining access to tecenter of the car is liable to be shut in there or in the passageway by the messenger, the latter taking refuge in one of the end compartments. The passageway is also closed by an intermediate door having a lock on the side next to the messenger's rooh. "And will you swear that you never paid over to any other person any money to be given to the police?"
"I. will."

"I. will."
The subject of the French ball was next, taken up. The officers denied, however, having paid money for police protection.
Some of the former officers of the ball and some of the attaches and employees told different tales, however. The Lexow Committee dipped into all the naughtiness of the French ball, and some of the country mittee dipped into all the naughtiness of the French ball, and some of the country members of the committee seemed very much shocked at the accounts given, but these statements were emphatically denied by the officials of the society which has the French ball in charge. According to their statements, there was no high kicking, and the ball would compare favorably with any of the social events given by any fraternal, benevolent or charitable organization of New York City.

Frederick Gallagher was the first witness after the recess. His testimony related to the proposed six-round bout, about which Brady testified in the morning. Gallagher stated that the reason Mitchell had backed out was that he objected to allowing the police one-third of the receipts of the performance.

"Is it not generally understood?" asked Goff, "among the sporting fraternity that in order to allow a bout to come off it is necessary to settle with the police?"

"Yes, it is."

The next five witnesses were attaches of the French society in this city. Their testimony was conflicting, some maintaining that money was paid the police for protection and others that none was ever paid.

Mrs. Annie Newstole, a widow, testified protection and others that none was every paid.

Mrs. Annie Newstole, a widow, testined she paid $18-a month to Detectives Brennan and McCormick. They told her it she paid $200 down and $20 a month she could sell what she pleased, to whom she pleased, and when she pleased. She had given some diamonds to Alderman Clancy for safe keeping and never got them back again. At the close of the examination Goff saked for an adjournment until next Tuesday to prepare for his next witness.

FUNNY PEOPLE. FUNNY PEOPLE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The steamships Energia and Strathlevon from China and Japan, leaving Yokohama September 3 via. Shanghai and Foo Chow, have arrived here. Capt. Cormick of the Strathlevon and Capt. Saw of the Energia said they had not seen much of the fighting, but that in the different ports where they had anchored they had lots of chances to observe the feeling between the two countries.

When they finished their work the robbers made the engineer back the train over a trestle, and while it was crossing disappeared in a thick forest. The passengers kept so close in while the train was being robbed that they did not know much about what was going on, and the railroad men and express officials will not make any statements. The robbers had possession of the express-car until they accomplished their object. One valuable package is known to have been obtained. The safe of the messenger was carried off. It is learned on good authority that upward of $100,000 was secured. The passengers say the whole thing was done so quickly that there was little of a story to tell. serve the feeling between the two countries.

"Why," said Cormick, "you never saw a country have such a large bump of self-esteem as Japan recently developed. They are very fond of calling themselves the England of the East.' One Japanese gentleman whom I met in Yokohama was taking to me about the future of Japan, and he got down a map and peinted out to me the fact that Japan was in the same relative position to Asia that England is to Europe, and then he said: Japan's influence may be felt throughout Asia as England's is throughout Europe.' I'll tell you what," continued the captain, "if Japan conquiers China, as she most certainly will, the United States or England will have to give Japan a real good whipping before there will be any living on the same earth with her.

"Another Japanese whom I met was very confident that Japan would some day be the greatest nation on earth." He was a passenger on my ship and was going from Yokohama to Hakodate, and one night while we were standing on deck together I asked him who would win the war. "Why, Japan of course.' he answered. "What will Japan do after the war?' I asked. 'Oh, there is a country of gold to the south. Japan may want that.' He meant Australia, and I asked him what England would be doing while Japan took Australia. I don't think Japan cares what England would do,' he answered, and I had to run off and look hard at the compass for fear of laughing in his face.

"The Chinese are not saying as much as they were the last time I visited their ports. They are divided into two factions, one in favor of old Li Hung Chang, and the other very much opposed to him. Price of Interviews.

It appears now that W. S. Gilbert is not the first or the only distinguished Englishman to ask compensation for an interview. The New York Sun's correspondent in London once upon a time wrote to Mr. Gladstone asking him for an interview on the Irish question, and in the course of a conversation which followed with Mr. Gladstone's secretary, it was learned that a fee of $500 would be expected in payment for the interview, it being understood that Mr. Gladstone should write it himself, and thus make it authoritative. Lord Roberts fixed the price at $100 for an interview upon the threatened war between England and Russia on another occasion.

The Great Helmbold Fortune.

The Great Helmbold Fortune.

The great fortune amassed by the late Dr. Helmbold was a powerful testimonial to the benefit of advertising. It is said that he spent millions in advertising his buchu, and the money came back to him ten-fold. But he could not stand prosperity, and so his money went as fast as it came. There are many startling stories about his reckless expenditures.

He gave $100,000 upon a team of white horses and a barouche, in which he took Gen. Grant to the Monmouth race course the day it was opened. He gave $100 to a poor shoemaker for tapping the heels of his shoes and to a poor flower girl in the lobby of a hotel he paid $20 aplece for all the bouquets she had on her tray.

FRESH LITERATURE.

OF SUCH IS THE KINGDOM, and Other Poems. By Anna Olcott Commelin. (New York: Fowler & Wells Company.) This little volume is one of the daintiest This little volume is one of the daintiest of the season, as far as the publishers' art is concerned, but not more dainty is its setting than is the verse which is contained between its covers of white and gold. They are songs of the spirit, breathing the melody of hope and consolation. Among the miscellaneous poems the ascriptive to the golden rod as "A National Flower" is one of the most charming productions of the volume, while "Summer Friends" is a very delicate bit of word pointing.

A COLLECTION OF THE WILD FLOW-ERS OF CALIFORNIA, Pressed and Arranged. By Miss E. C. Alexander, With Appropriate Sonnets, Specially Written by Miss Ina D. Coolbrith and Grace Hibbard of Califernia. (San Francisco: The Popular Bookstore.)

This volume is quite an original departure in the line of holiday books, but nothing more charming or more appropriate for the season could well be imagined. It is an epitome of the blossoming winter hills and vales of the Golden State, and to one who has never had the opportunity of seeing the beautiful wild flowers of our State at this season, this book will be a treasure indeed. The verse is beautifully befitting, supplementing in word painting the dainty blossoms.

ARTHUR O'SHAUGHNESSY, HIS LIFE AND HIS WORK, With Selections from His Poems. By Louise Chandler Moulton. (Cambridge and Chicago: Stone & Kimball.)

The mechanical work of these wellknown publishers is always artistic and attractive. The volume before us is peculiarly so, and a model in design and finish. Some of the poems contained in the volume are deemed by many as oversensuous, while still full of the melody of song. The author's love songs are pregnant with the strength of impassioned feeling, as for instance:

'And now I have face, hair and eyes;
And lo, the woman that these make
Is more than flower, and sun, and skies!
Her siender fingers seem to take My whole fair life, as 'twere a bowl.

And blds me drink it for her soul.

And blds me drink it for her sake.

A variety of themes are the subjects of these poems, and all lovers of poetry will delight in their nectar of poetic thought.

The kingdom of little children is a big world in these latter days, and the best talent of the day is employed in making books for it. The book before us is the story of a little crippied child's life, made beautiful and glorified by its thoughtfulness and tender care for others. It is full of life and action, and its little heroines are made so charming that they cannot fall to interest the world of child readers, while they impress upon their mind life's great lesson that to be happy one

To the juvenile world the name of Sophie

Doo." By Sophie May. (Boston: Lee & Shepard.)

To the juvenile world the name of Sophie May, is a familiar household word, and the book before us is one that will delight the very core of their hearts. The author has made a close and loving study of childhood, and she paints it just as we find it in the everyday world, in all its quaintness, originality, fun and seriousness. The book is wholesome in its teachings, and parents can put it unhesitatingly into the hands of their little ones, feeling that they will learn only that which is good and delightful from its pages.

THE MOUNTAINS OF CALIFORNIA. By John Muir. (New York: The Century Company.)

Mr. Muir is an ardent lover of the mountains, and well has he studied those of this Golden State. He is at home with them, and knows all their secrets. He has traversed their by paths and elimbed their highest heights, and being on such initimate terms with Nature, she keeps her surprises for him and her marvelous revelations.

This book is an epitome of Sierra wonders, and no one can read it without feeling the pulse of Nature's great heart in every line. Take the following extract for instance: "No evangel among all the mountain plants speaks Nature's love more plainly than casslope. Where she dwells, the redemption of the coldest solitude is complete. The very rocks and gisclers seem to feel her presence, and become imbued with her own fountain sweetness. All things were wanning and awakening. Frozen rills began to flow, the marmotic came out of their nests in boulder-piles and climbed sunny rocks to bask, and the dunheaded sparrows were flitting about seeking their breakfasts. The lakes seen from every ridge-top were brilliantly rippled, and spangled, shimmering like the thickets of the low dwarf pines. I strode on exhilarated, as if never more to feel fatigue, every sense unfolding like the thickets of the low dwarf pines. Wing. By Oliver Optic. (Boston: Lee & Shepard.)
In "Asiatic Breezes" our party, consisting of all our old friends of the previous volumes of the series, after their return from their explorations and adventures in the Nile country, board the steamers and leave Alexandria. The Maud sails from the island of Cyprus, meeting a severe gale on the passage, which is vividly described, together with their subsequent adventures at the Island. In due time the steamers join company and proceed through the Suez Canal, the construction of which is carefully explained. The book is full of exciting incidents, told in the author's best veln, and is not only exceedingly interesting, but very instructive. This volume completes the second series of the "All-Over-the-World" Library, and is just the book to put into the hands of our young folks.

Dr. Joseph Cook, in his introduction to the work, says: "The present writer has nowhere met with a more judicious and convincing presentation than the following volume contains of our perils from lax' immigration laws. This is a book of telling facts and of sound and far-reaching inferences on the increasing mischiefs of unsifted immigration. Mrs. Rena Michaels Atchison of Chicago has long been known as an expert in this branch of sociological discussion: Her treatise is timely, incisive and strategic both in the exhibiton of the great evils it describes and in the suggestion of remedies."
AS NATURAL AS LIFE. Studies of the Inner Kingdom. By Charles G. Ames. (Boston: James H. West, publisher.)
This interesting work is of genuine practical interest, illustrating as it does how the child may be trained so that religion shall be to him "as natural as life," and a part of his every-day thought. There is no better book to draw but our latent reverence and to quicken our insight so that we may see a God in nature, than this same little volume, which comes to us as a teacher and helper, rich in thoughtful illustration."

IN LOVE WITH LOVE. Four life studies. By James H. West. (Boston. James H. West. publisher.)

The subjects treated of in this little volume are transflurations, serenity, true greatness, and our other selves. They each show the needs of the human soul, and how they may best be satisfied. It is helpful and interesting, and a careful perusal of it will reveal to the reader how much of a stranger he is to his own hidden self.

THE WORLD'S CONGRESS OF REPRESENTATIVE WOMEN. Edited by May Wright Sewall. (Chicago and New York:

Wright Sewall. (Chicago and New York: Rand, McNally & Co.) These volumes are a rich storehouse of memories, being a historical resume for popular circulation of the World's Congress of Representative Women, convened in Chicago on May 15, and adjourned on May 22, 1893, under the auspices of the woman's branch of the World's Congress Auxiliary. In other words, it is an epitome of woman's progress in the nine-teenth century, and affords the reader a glimpse of that memorable gathering in Chicago, which marked a new era in woman's history. Here, within the pages of this work, we find embalmed some of the best thoughts and the noblest impulses of the women of today; and it is like a vast panorama, showing the lines of woman's progress, and the new hopes and fields which are opening to her. Every woman in the land should read it and gather inspiration from its pages. It is profusely illustrated.

THE RAND-M'NALLY OFFICIAL RAIL-WAY GUIDE AND HAND-BOOK. (Chicago: Published by the American Railway Guide Company.)

This work is invaluable to the traveler, and to the inexperienced one is like a friend and helper standing always at his elbow ready to give all needed information as to his journeyings. It covers the entire system of railroads throughout, the country and contains much interesting descriptive matter in regard to the larger towns and cities along the great highways of travel. It speaks pleasantly of Los Angeles, among other places, giving its population and principal public buildings and closes with the remark that "it is beautifully situated and a great health resort. OUTLINES AND LECTURES ON ENGLISH HISTORY AND LITERATURE.

By Anna S. Averill. (Los Angeles.)

The student of history and of general English literature will find in this wellwritten work one of the best helps that could be afforded him in this interesting field of research. The accomplished author is well versed in the subject of which she treats, and is fully at home in the old paths of the past along which she has trod.

memorial verses and poems of experience, each unfolding a page of the author's heart. Perhaps of these last "A Tragedy

WALKS ABROAD AND TALKS ABOUT THEM. By William Hawley Smith.
(Peoria: Educational Press Association.)

(Peoria: Educational Press Association.)
Not alone teachers, but whoever has a child in the public schools, or any interest in them whatever, will heartily enjoy William Hawley Smith's new book, "Walks Abroad," and wish it the widest circulation. It is the brightest and kindliest and timeliest word that has been said on the subject in many a day, and deserves a popularity even greater than Mr. Smith's other famous book, "The Evolution of Dodd," which also bears on the school question. The present volume consists of a dozen or so short and exceedingly entertaining and readable essays, addressed chiefly to teachers, but appealing to the chiefly to teachers, but appealing to the common sense and common interests of all of us who are in any manner interested in

of us who are in any manner interested in our own public schools; and, being readable and bright and full of fun, as well as of good, hard horse-sense, the book will, if we are not mistaken, have a great run all over the country.

all over the country.

It is the kind of book one reads with increasing zest and enjoyment from the first page to the last and finally lays down wishing there were more of it. The humor is delicious and never flags. There is not a dull paragraph in it. It is just such a book as was needed, and if only every teacher and school superintendent, and especially every parent or individual connected with or interested in the public schools could read it. it would do a world of good.

Mr. Smith is an Illinois man, a writer and lecturer of note, and he has had a wide experience in educational matters.
Having been a school teacher himself and more or less intimately associated with teachers and schools all his life, through teachers and schools all his life, through his kindly, never-failing interest as a citizen, in their efficiency and welfare, his criticisms and admocitions have a value they would not have if they came from a mere theorist. So when, in his amusing way, he points out errors and absurdities in prevailing pedagogic methods and "the system," he knows what he is talking about and his words have weight in pre-liesly the quarter where they can do some cisely the quarter where they can do so good.

cisely the quarter where they can do some good.

The keynote of Mr. Smith's song is that it is the business of teachers to teach; that they are not paid merely to assign lessons, hear pupils say them if they can, mark them up or down as the case may be, and never give them any real help. They should really teach. That is what they are for. And he makes a strong plea for the individuality of the pupil, the right of each to a fair chance in the school. If he is weak in one study, "born short," don't make it an excuse for keeping him back in others in which he may be strong. This paper, "Born Short," and the one entitled, "Rats," bearing on the same subject, Dr. Hodgsen, secretary of the London Society for Psychic Research, says are the best articles on pedagogy that he has ever seen; that they contain a philosophy which is the very rock basis of school-teaching that amounts to anything.

Under the head, "Through Memory's Ways," Mr. Smith discusses what seems to him the waste of time in requiring pupils to memorize names, dates, etc., to the extent it is done.

There are thirty-one papers in all. includ ing, besides those mentioned, reflections on "The Institute," "Exams," "The Bad Boy," "The Bad Boy's Mother," and many more it would be a pleasure to quote from.

AMEUSMENTS TONIGHT.

A SILVER LINING TO THE

The South is seeing a good many changes, and beginning to open its eyes to the fact that there is something in politics besides mere senti--that it involves issues which affect our material interests and our practical, everyday life. Thus it is hat under the misgovernment of the Cleveland regime we have seen the solld ranks of Southern Democracy roken, and the people shocked in o common sense by the low price of their marketable products. There is logic which they cannot fail to heed in the hard times which have been so universal, and four-cent cotton is quent to them of the necessity of a political change. The exercise of sound common sense, practically apgood ways toward breaking down the wall of prejudice which has so long hedged in the people of the South, and with this will come the dawn of a new era. The agricultural interests of the Southern States have been growing. Cotton is no longer king, and for the first time in its history it has been shipping corn to the "raising more hay and less tell," in short. With closer business relations between the two sections e established, and with protected stries, the agricultural wealth of the South will gradually be developed and the good, honest doctrine prevail that labor is not degrading, but that a man may ennoble toll doing what he has to do well. The hard times forced upon us by Democratic policy and legislation, the erner is, like the rest of le, able to trace to their cause t is something of a shock to him to mow that he has been misled and that the conditions which now obtain brought about by his vote in common with those of his Democratic brethren throughout the country, therefore he has decided to let no longer a mere sentiment decide the char acter of his vote, but rather to vote in a way that will assure him material prosperity, and build up the instries of the whole country. And there is no better way of setting about work of reconstruction and de stroying forever the feelings of sectional prejudice that have so long exsted between these two great secions of our country than this. If the Cleveland administration is the means bringing about a more friendly adtment of the relations of the North and South it will be worth all the misery it has caused and the bitter experience which it has given the country through its folly: In the hope of such result we see the silver lining long enveloped the material interests of our whole land.

A BARE OPPORTUNITY FOR LOS and to the severe condemnation of the ANGELES.

The remarks which we made a few days ago in regard to the opening for an extension of the trade of Los Angeles in the counties to the north of us have attracted considerable attention and favorable comment among our merchants. The thing should not, however, be permitted to rest there. Talk is all very well in its way, but action is necessary to accomplish anything.

Why cannot we make an organized effort to promote the building of a competing, independent line from Los eles to the San Joaquin Valley, such as was proposed in the letter from Kings county, received by the president of the Chamber of Commerce? San Francisco has been struggling with the project of an independent San Joaquin Valley line for some time past, but does not seem to be making very rapid progress. The amount of subscription needed to insure the building of this road is said be not more than $350,000. The fact that such a sum as this cannot be raised in twenty-four hours in a althy city like San Francisco is not very creditable to the enterprise of its for any other public office. As Govcitizens. But then the people of San Francisco have so long been hopelessly In the power of the Southern Pacific Company that they seem to have got out of the way of helping themselves.

Here in Southern California the case s different. We are accustomed to misdemeanor should have been ag-gravated into a grave crime. For the competing lines of railroad, and know what a benefit they are. We have enterprise, and we have something like $11,000,000 on deposit in the banks of this city alone. Why can we not meet this city alone. Why can we not meet sake of common decency, it is to be hoped that Mr. Budd has been misthe sure-enough victim of villification se people of the San Joaquin Val-who are so anxious to trade with victed of conspiracy to obstruct the movement of United States mails, were yesterday sentenced by Judge Ross to eighteen months in the County Jail, and to pay a fine of $1 each. In sentencing Johnson, Judge Ross stated that in view of the prisoner's illness he would urge a pardon for. him, though he did not wish this action to he misconstrued, as in any wise palli ating Johnson's offense. may consider themselves fortunate in receiving so light a sentence. Under the law, they might have been sent to the penitentiary for two years, with a fine of $10,000 each in addition.

The San Francisco Examiner calls upon President Cleveland to use such influence as he may possess with his Attorney-General to stop the persecution of the beaten strikers, under the form of Federal law." Demaunder gogic utterances such as this were largely responsible for the disorders of last summer, and for the bloodshed which resulted therefrom. They breed disrespect for law, and encourage the ignorant and the vicious in the mis chievous folly of supposing that the laws of the land can be violated with mpunity. There is no "persecution" of anybody in the firm enforcement of law and the firm execution of its penalties. The courts, both Federal and State, have erred rather on the side of too much leniency, than on the side of too much severity, in passing upon the cases growing out of last summer's

The rain has come-the beneficent fructifying rain, and our soll will soon feel the stir of springing grasses and wakening life, and our brown hills smile in the beauty of their annual resurrection. We shall soon see the farmer busy with his plow, making ready to sow his seed, and the smell the freshly-turned furrows fill our nostrils as we pass beyond the city's streets. We can say good-by to croakers and look forward year of growth and plenty. Southern California is still the land to pin one's faith to-the land for the home-seeke and the agriculturist, and in no spot under the heavens can he who plants and sows find so quick a return for his labors.

Under the present nomenclature, there are no two postoffices of the same name in any one State. This is a good idea, so far as it goes. But the plan would better be extended to the whole country, so that there would be no two postoffices of precisely the same name in the United States. list of possible names is practically without limit, and the adoption of the plan suggested would obviate a great deal of confusion arising from the numerous Washingtons, Brownvilles etc., in various parts of the country, by reason of which mail matter is to often miscarried.

The shipment of green fruits from California increased from 2,896,530 pounds in 1873 to 19,212,580 pounds in 1883, and to 149,040,480 pounds in 1893; of dried fruit from nothing in 1873 to 3,079,950 pounds in 1883, to 76,402,740 pounds in 1893; of raisins from othing in 1873 to 295,050 pounds in 1883, and to 67,268,720 pounds 1893. Burns, the English labor agitator, is on his way to Denver. Has not the metropolis of Colorado had about enough of labor agitators and othe fakirs during the past few years? Its business is flat and its property has decreased, on an average, from 50 to 75 per cent. within the past two or three years, chiefly because of the reign of demagogy, populism, anarchism, and other political and social diseases. Doesn't Denver know when she has had enough?

A bill has already been introduced in Congress, at the present session, for the creation of a new territory out of Indian Territory, to be named "Indianola." The creation of the proposed new territory may be all right, but the name suggested is not a good one, being too much like that of Indiana. Name it Choctaw, Chickasee, Navajo, Keewigtowruk, Pignicktalik-anything but Indianola.

Boston, New York and Philadelphia are realizing the full benefits of the free-trade policy which the Democracy has given to the country, for it has succeeded in closing all the sugar factories of those cities and left the poor employees' dinner-pails without anything to fill them.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

ANGELES THEATER. - Had LOS ANGELES THEATER. — Had "Charley's Aunt" never been writen, the stage would probably not have known the play "The New Boy," which was presented at the Los Angeles Theater last night. It is created on the same lines as is the former play, but contains somewhat less horse play and rough fun, and rather more coherency of plot—in fact the plot is a considerable one—but for all that it is really a one-part play, and when the new boy is more coherency of plot—in fact the plot is a considerable one—but for all that it is really a one-part play, and when the new boy is not on the stage the interest lags.

The situation of a mature woman passing off her youthful and undersized husband as her son, for policy's aks, is the core of the whole thing. As might easify be imagined, this gives rise to innumerable complications, especially as the alleged boy is turned loose in school with a lot of rough young cubs who harry the very life out of him, using him, as he expresses it, as a football, play a game called rats and use him as the rat, try their hands at a tug of war with the new boy as the rope, etcelera, etcetera. They also force him into an apple-stealing escapade, which brings him any quantity of new experiences and any amount of embarrassment, but the young chap stands it like a little may, buoyed up by his spouse, for whose sake he suffers as well as his own.

Bert Coots, the new boy, is cut out for the role. He has a dry humor, a languor-ous countenance and a raspy sort of a laugh that are decidedly apropos, and on his narrow shoulders is laid the burden of carrying the plece through two hours of laughter. The house last evening was in the cachinatory humor, and laughed at the medicore lines as well as at the clever ones. The company is not of surpassing ability, although Grace George made a very pretty and engaging Nancy Roach, and Annie Alliston was quite acceptable as the wife of the new boy. The play is full of mirthful things and is well worth seeing it will be presented tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

COMING ATTRACTION.—The receipts of the first day's sale of seats for the engagement of "Aladdin, Jr., which opens at the Los Angeles Theater Monday night, amounted to about $2000. This is the largest advance sale for any company in this city since the boom days of several years ago. The American Extravaganza Company, comprising nine cars, is now on its way to this city, it left Denver at 3 o'clock Thursday morning and makes only the necessary stops for coal and water and fresh locomotives until it reaches here Sunday noon. The Rocky Mountain News of Denver, in its last Sunday's edition, commenting on the engagement of the American Extravaganza Company in that city, says: "The reason for the enormous success of this organization in Denver lies solely in the fact that the people of Denver have confidence that when they go to see one of Henderson's pieces they will find everything exactly as advertised, and receive more than value for their money. This has been the secret of the success of this management, not only in Denver, but throughout the United States. No stronger organization has ever been seen in this country than that composing the company now playing "Aladdin, Jr." In addition to the enormous corps de ballet, there is an organization numerically stronger and comprising more talent than most of the best comic opera organizations now on the road."

MEETING OF THE SAN DIEGO DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Large Attendance of Ministers an Visitors—The Woman's Home Missionary Society Convention.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The district conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church closes tonight, with a sermon by Dr. Isaac Jewell, a brilliant pulpit orator, lately transferred to the Southern California Conference from Wilmington, N. J. Dr. Jewell has occupied some of the most important pulpits in his Eastern conference, and comes to Southern California on account of his wife's health. Rev. E. A. McIntier of Santa Ana preached a powerful sermon on Tuesday evening, upon the "Baptism of the Holy Spirit." There has been a good attendance, considering that San Diego is situated at the extreme southwest corner of the district. There were present during the session; Rev. E. W. Caswell, presiding elder of the district; Rev. E. A. McIntier of Santa Ana, Rev. Dr. Jewell of Perris, Rev. N. J. Burton of Garden Grove, Rev. J. Nicholson of Escondido, Rev. nere must have been favorable, for this is what the Lansing Republican says of him:

"Charles E. Wheeler of the Lansing Lumber Company has returned from a vacation trip to California. How did I enjoy myself? Well, it was the greatest and grandest trip I ever took in my life, and if somebody should offer me 10 to 1 for the memories of that trip, and compel me to blot the whole thing from my mind, I would scorn the offer. The only thing I regret is that I did not take it years ago. That is what Mr. Wheeler said, in answer to a query from a Republican representative last night.

"I made a tour of the entire State," and the was one round of delightful surprises from the time I started till the trips, and it was one round of delightful surprises from the time I started till the time! I took the cars for Lansing, I found business, as a general thing, dull. San Francisco, especially, has felt the effects of the business depression, and a pricked boom bubble. There are 5000 vacant buildings in, the city, and the prospects are very discouraging. All parts of the State have been built up and advanced fifty years ahead of the times, and there will never be a better time for investment than right now. The State is month of November, 1894, shows that the conditions were favorable for closing up the work of fruit-drying, but they were conditions were favorable for closing up the work of fruit-drying; but they were unpropitious for general farm operations, because of the protracted drought. A light rain fell in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties, but it was not sufficient to be of lasting benefit to vegetation. In the remaining counties no rain fell, and the departures from the average precipitation was marked; the deficiency at Los Angeles was 1.48 inches; .82 of an inch at San Diego; about .83 of an inch at Riverside, and the deficiency in the remaining sections was in about the same proportion. Night and morning fogs were frequent in the coast districts, and which precipitated an appreciable amount of moisture that was beneficial to grass crops and vegetables. Dry plowing and seeding were carried on to a considerable extent, and grain sown early in the coast districts and districts did well in spite of the dry weather.

The month was cooler than the average in the coast districts, while in the interior it was warmer; the temperature was 1 deg. less than the mean at Los Angeles, 4 below at San Diego, 1 below at Santa Barbara, and at Riverside it was 4 deg. in excess of the mean for twelve years. Light frosts were of quite frequent occurrence toward the close of the month on low, exposed ground, but no particular injury was done, a few tender vegetables only being nipped. Detailed reports follow:

San Luis Obispo: Rain fell November 27, and, while not sufficient, it was beneficial to grass and grain crops. Dairymen have suffered through overstocking and insufficient rain. Highest temperature, 78 deg.; lowest, 40 deg.; rain, .31 inch.

Ventura county—Bardsdale: The weather was cool at night and a touch of frost in low, exposed places. The conditions were favorable for gathering corn. August potatoes and for trees, except the latter need rain; orchards and alfalfa were irrigated.

Los Angeles county—Los Angeles cify: The temperature was 1 deg. less than the pects are very discouraging. All parts of the State have been built up and advanced fifty years ahead of the times, and there will never be a better time for investment than right now. The State is bound to grow to those improvements.

"But Los Angoles is the banner city.
For the past year an average of six building permits have been issued every day, and some of the buildings are simply palaces. Electric street cars run into the country for distances of from six to ten miles, and people along these lines have the benefits of electric lights, water and all modern conveniences, and the country is a paradise. The roads are lined with magnolias and flowering shrubs, while the fruit orchards and country homes on each side are perfect bowers of loveliness. The people are the most hospitable I ever met in my life."

After speaking of some other parts of the State, the interview continues: "There are some disadvantages of living in California, however. In the first place, large tracts of land that ought to be under cultivation are held by ranchmen and syndicates, and they simply rob the man who wants to buy. Then the irrigating plants are controlled by monopolies of the worst type. The fruit-growers are completely at their mercy, and have no redress. The fruit crop last year was unprofitable because of the strike, but the prospects are good for a large orange crop, which will be harvested about March.
The Southern Pacific Railroad controls
the entire shipments of the fruit belt, and the way they sock on the rates is frightful. As in example, 3000 cars of raisins were shipped from one county last season, and all the grower got for his product was 2 cents per pound. The commission-houses and railroads got the rest."

The local markets contain green peas, beans, green peppers, tomatoes, onlons, spinach, cauliflower, cucumbers, egg-plants, radishes, lettuce; also strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, some new oranges and tangerines. Duarte: The week was partly cloudy, but no rain fell. Not much work can be done till rain does come. Highest temperature, 85 deg; lowest, 40 deg. Pomona: With few exceptions there was sunshine all the fall; rain is needed to facilitate plowing and seeding. Several frosts occurred, but not more than usual for the time of the year. Olive-gathering and pickling have begun; though not a full crop, there will be many thousand gallons. Lemons are being gathered, oranges are taking on color, and the fruit is of more salable size than last year; the crop will be shipped through the association.

Riverside: The temperature during November was in excess of the average; the highest was 96 deg.; lowest, 32 deg.; mean, 62 deg.; the month was the warmest of which there is a record. No rain fell. The fruit crop is looking well.

Orange county—Santa Anta: The nights were cool, with a light frost on December 1. No rain fell during November; the highest temperature was 88 deg, and the lowest 52 deg. Early-sown barley and other fall crops are doing well. Plowing for sugar beets continues. Anaheim: The weather during November, except a few cloudy days, was a succession of sunny days and foggy nights, which precipitated considerable moisture. The walnut crop, consisting of forty carloads, has been moved, and, aithough damaged by the hot wind of August 25, averaged satisfactory to the growers. Farmers are making preparations for seeding and sugar-beet planting, rains are needed to start winter crops. A moderate acreage has been planted to winter vegetables. She was the daughter of D. C. Forney, founder of the Washington Chronicle, and a niece of John W. Forney. All those who knew "Dovie" Comstock in her childhood speak of her dainty beauty. The name was given her because it fitted her. She was a laughing, wayward child. It seemed natural that she should fall in love with Walter G. Comstock of Providence, who was rich, young and handsome. His father was very rich. He is a near relative of the Armours, and was in the wholesale meat business. They lived in Providence, on Parkis avenue, in the finest house in the aristocratic Elwood section. They plunged at once into the social whiri. It was not long before she gathered about her a coterie of young men. These young men drank quantities of wine.

Young Comstock's eyes were finally opened, and he got a divorce. It is said that the corespondent was Samuel Post, the man who was killed by Ella Nason. Some time after Mrs. Comstock came to New York, and lived in various hotels. In July, 1890, she moved to No. 344 Smith street, Brooklyn. MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—There is evidently a case of mistaken identity in the story telegraphed from Kansas City of the death in jail there, from excessive dissipation, of Mrs. Edith Armstrong, better known as "Dovie" Comstock, and said to be the daughter of D. C. Forney, the one-time editor of the famous antebellum paper, the Chronicle. Forney lives in Washington, at No. 2731 P street, and has received a letter from his daughter, who is Mrs. D. P. Watrous of New York city, saying that she is alive and well, and that she never went as far west as Kansas City in her life. It has deeply grieved the family that the old scandal connected with Mrs. Watrous's early career has been revived by the story of her death.

"The official withdrawal took place yesterday. This action, with its attendant circumstances, is not a direct declaration, of war upon the union as an organization, but on certain members of the union who have been caught in acts of "scalping" by the agents of the Home and the Phoenix companies.

"These concerns represent a total capital of $16,000,000, and their secession from the union will doubtless cause much uneasiness among other companies, foreign and domestic.

"Arthur E. Magill, general agent for the two companies named, has issued a circular letter of instructions to all agents of the Home and the Phoenix companies, the most important portion of which reads as follows:

two companies named, has issued a circular letter of instructions to all agents of the Home and the Phoenix companies, the most important portion of which reads as follows:

"Our membership in the Pacific Insurance Union having terminated today, we take this opportunity of explaining our prospective policy, and the position we propose assuming as regards that association. To prevent misconception, we wish it to be understood that as the chief object of the union is the promotion of insurance business by a sound and equitable administration, without any attempt at monopoly, or the extortion of unfair rates, it has our unqualified approval, and will continue to have our co-operation.

"Our withdrawal from the union is in pursuance of a notice we gave qn joining (and for other reasons not necessary to mention,) and, while we deem it a prudent step for the good of our companies (as well as all concerned in insurance matters,) we consider that the Pacific Insurance Union is a well-devised and meritorious association; that its affairs have been ably, and, as far as possible, impartially conducted, and, although it may not have worked with complete satisfaction in some individual cases, it has certainly educed better and more uniform methods, and placed fire insurance throughout the Pacific Coast on a more substantial basis. Having no grievance against the union, we do not desire to detract from the good purposes it seeks to accomplish, nor to encroach on the business of any of its loyal members, except on equal terms. We shall continue our adherence to its rules and regulations so far as they may be known to us, and so long as there shall be no improper interference with our interests. were adopted for the compact. The union itself was a good thing on principle, both as regards the protection of legitimate business and the reduction of rates. But we discovered some time ago that other companies were scalping right and left, particularly foreign companies.

"In many instances that have come under my personal observation the agreement for a commission of 15 per cent to brokers was violated. As high as 25 per cent, has been paid to brokers for pushing business and interfering with our customers.

"And that is not all. There are hundreds of cases where rebates on premiums have actually been paid to the assured. Now this sort of thing couldn't be tolerated any longer.

"Our companies have suffered a great deal in the country by this underhanded work, and for that reason we have decided to meet all such cuts and moves by any and all companies wherever they occur.

"We don's propose to reduce rates—unless forced to," he continued. "We shall simply protect ourselves and our business against the scalpers, and for that reason our companies have withdrawn from the union, so as to be free and unhampered by the rules that would the our hands, but which do not seem to tie the hands of some other companies. Some of the foreign companies" agents claim that they have not violated the rules, but I have run across many cases where they have offered higher commissions than the rules of the union allow, and they have even gone so the companies of the union allow, and they have even gone so the companies agenes of the deal of the matter his personal attention, and it is more than probable that there may be some further developments in the near future.

"Last night several prominent insurance men expressed it, as their opinion that the action taken by the Phoenix and Home companies will result in a general disintegration of the union, and that an insurance rate war is imminent."

FINE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY.

Mr. R. H. Howell bought yesterday, through the real estate firm of Wesley Clark and E. P. Bryan, that elegant property at the corner of Sixth and Pearl streets, known as the "Bellevue Terrace," together with all the furniture therein. Mr. Howell proceeds at once to place the property in first-class condition and is ready for a good tenant. There are 126 rooms, and, with the reputation and condition of the property, a first-class hotel man can make no mistake in availing himself early of this opportunity. For any particulars, Mr. Howell can be found at No. 127 West Third street.

SOMETHING If a man only knew just what she would like for a Christmas present! Most men FOR HERdon't know; at least they think they don't.

Yet, if they would only stop to think, they would know that nothing in the realm of gifts is more appreciated by womankind than some choice bit of Furniture Bric-a-brac, like our quaintly-beautiful music cabinets, made from rich, dark, glistening woods match the pianos, the carvings and the resplendent brass trimmings; in fact, the cabinets themselves are exquisite examples of the furniture maker's art. Furniture like this is like wine or friends-the older it gets the better. Perhaps SHE would like this cabinet for her music. Perhaps YOU had better come and see them. T is an undisputed fact that a person who has the cash to pay for an article can always save money in buying. Cash is always better than credit. It is doubly so at the present time in our cloak department. You can save from two to ten dollars now in the price of a cloak provided you have the cash to pay for it. The price is not being cut for the purpose of raising money. We have an entirely different object in view for cutting prices in the cloak department. The price is not being cut on a few cloaks for effect but on every garment of every kind now on sale in the cloak department. The cut is not a slight one but is large evough to sell ment. The cut is not a slight one but is large enough to sell out every garment of every kind in this department. The price is cut deep enough to make it an object for those to buy who have thought they could worry through the season with their last season's garment. It is a well known fact that we carry the largest cloak stock in the city. It is also well known that we do business upon a reliable basis. That a reduction advertised is always given as advertised and that every promise is fullfilled to the letter. Fur Capes, Shawls, Coats, Jackets, Capes for ladies, misses and children are all being sold at a big reduction from the regular marked price. In every instance the cash must come with the sale. This insures you the lowest price ever made on first class goods. You cannot only buy cloaks at a big reduction but dress goods as well. You can clothe yourself cheaper today than ever before. We refer solely to the present reduced prices that we are making in the dress goods and cloak departments. Dress goods that have been selling all the way from $1 to $2 a yard, now 75c. It is the cream of the dress goods stock where the reduction is now being made. There is no lady who wants to buy a dress or a wrap and wants to buy it at the lowest price going that can afford to pass these two departments without looking. The rain will give a new impetus to business. It will make trade extra good and in the face of all this we are giving the greatest bargains in cloaks and dress goods that have ever been offered. This includes the best stock we have ever carried. One thing you can rely upon and that is the reliability of our statements.

NOTE.—Attention is directed to the fact that the NET as well as the GROSS circulation of THE TIMES is shown regularly in these monthly statements. The "returns" are habitually small, but are always carefully reported and deducted from the gross-circulation. The natural fluctuation, up and down, according to the times and seasons, is thus truly exhibited.

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past-several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time. THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

THE EVANGELISTS.

BEV. MR. YATMAN'S DISCOURSE

ON "HELL." A Large and Attentive Audience Present—Rev. Mr. Pratt at the East Side Congregational Church.

A large audience was present at the First M. E. Church last evening, to hear Evangelist Yatman speak on "Hell."
"This is a very solemn hour," began the speaker, "both for the speaker and the hearer. Tonight, we take a look beyond the grave—for death does not end all. The most awful thing found in the Bible to the impressable sulf between hearer.

of the Lord Jesus Christ.

which nothing can bridge but the salvation of the Lord Jesus Christ.

"Hell? Is there such a place? I am not going to answer the question, each one can do that for themselves. I shall put you on trial for your lives, tonight. Let there be silence in the court, as I bring the witnesses to prove to you the realities of eternity.

"Let us call Jesus the Son of Main, and Savior of the world. What does He say! There shall go away into eternal punishment, into the lake of fire. He would warn us against the day when the men who say there is no God, no Christ, no heaven, no bell, shall find that they all sxist. Put the Holy Bible on the witness stand, and as we turn page after page, the testimony accumulates. Law must be obeyed or the transgressor must suffer. It is the rule everywhere else, why not with religion?

is the rule everywhere else, why not with religion?
"Everything that a good God can do, is being done to save men, but it must be done in this world. Hell is not reformatory, any more than our prisons and jails cause repentance. Reform must occur in this life, or not at all. If here, where God's goodness is everywhere apparent,

Evangelist Pratt.

Last night a large congregation greeted Mr. Pratt at the Congregational Church. Kevs. Sterling, Dye and Hill were present. They are in hearty sympathy with the work.

Mr. Pratt spoke from the text, "No man cared for my soul." He said, in substance: "There is no sorrow like soul sorrow. No loneliness like soul loneliness. When Laura Bridgman was asked, "What is the soul?" She wrote, "The soul is that which aches.' Men's souls ache in loneliness.

is the soul: She wrote. The soul is that which aches.' Men's souls ache in loneliness.

"Christian men are delinquent in not speaking to men concerning their souls. The mission of the church is to save souls. This is its distinctive work. Stand by the old methods, Soap-bubble sociables and soul-saving are not compatible. If converts are won by ice cream and cake by your church, another church may catch them with a little better ice cream and cake. Let souls be won by the principles preached at Pentecost. Concern begets concern. When souls find you interested in them they become greatly concerned about themselves. The sad and sorrowing world waits for our help." After an earnest prayer by Rev. Sterling there was an inquiry meeting held in the lecture-room.

Rev. E. G. O. Groat and Rev. Jenkins

were present. There will be a Bible reading today at 3 p.m. Mr. Pratt will speak again tonight.

MUSICAL MENTION. A good audience was present at the concert given by the Y.W.C.A. last evening. Mrs. M. E. Auer, who was billed to appear, was unable to be present, and her numbers were filled by Miss A. L. Murphy and J. Bond Francisco. An enterand programme was presented, embracing some of the best-known artists in the city. J. Bond Francisco played in his usually finished style, and Miss Murphy, in her readings, demonstrated that he is possessed of considerable versattlity and dramatic force, Following is the programme:

AT THE CITY HALL.

Some Sanitary Matters. TUBERCULOSIS BACILLI AND SEW AGE DEODORIZATION.

Among the matters that it is expected will be brought before the Board of Health at an early date is the question of Health at an early date is the question of in some manner regulating the careless disposal of expectorations on the street. One of the members of the board, in order to make a test, recently examined a small quantity of the dust lying in the gutter in front of his office on Spring street. The dust, when gathered, was dry, and an examination disclosed the fact that it con-

The dust, when gathered, was dry, and an examination disclosed the fact that it contained the bacilli of consumption.

A proposal that is being considered is to have kept in order at proper intervals along the street in the business portion of the city suitable cuspidors, and to have an ordinance adopted which shall prohibit expectoration on the sidewalks in such portions of the city, and perhaps in the street, also. The proposition further contemplates the introduction of a proper system of disinfecting and disposing of the contents of the cuspidors. Of course it would be natural there should be some difficulty experienced in the minor details of the scheme, but it is believed these can be obviated.

It is argued quite strongly that some-thing of this kind should be done for the

It is argued quite strongly that something of this kind should be done for the resson that consumptives are more and more coming to make their homes in this locality, and it is a rapidly-increasing necessity that proper safeguards should be taken to protect persons not diseased from infection from those who are.

It is stated that the latest conclusions arrived at by medical authorities tend to strengthen the belief that consumption is not so much hereditary as it is contracted by persons who become infected with germs of that disease.

Another matter of sanitary importance is the disinfection and proper deodorization of the city sewers. This would undeubtedly be aided greatly if people would take the pains to frequently put copperasor some other good disinfectant and deodorizing agent into the connections between their houses and the street sewers. By so doing they would not only render much less possible danger of infection in their own homes but if this were to be done generally it would increase the safety of the public health.

One of the things which it is not unlikely the city will be asked to do will be to disinfect the public sewers. At first sight this may seem an impracticable thing to do but it is claimed it is not.

At the head of each of nearly all of the principal sewers there is a flushtank capable of holding a considerable quantity of water which at regular intervals is all at once discharged through a siphon into the sewer, the volume of water flushing the sewer much more effectually than would a continual small stream of water.

It is believed that if a bag of some strong cloth containing thirty or so pounds of copperas were to be placed in each of these flushtanks and renewed as often as exhausted the steady discharging of the copperas solution into the sewer would have a good effect.

If the copperas were to be bought by the quantity it is believed this method of the copperas solution into the sewer would have a good effect.

If the copperas were to be bought by the quantity it is believed this method of disinfection would not be very expensive.

The question has been raised as to whether the putting of so much copperas into the sewers would not injure the sewage for purposes of irrigation. It is claimed, however, that it will not do so for the reason that the volume of sewage and water running into the outfall sewer is so great in comparison with the quantity of copperas that would be dissolved in the water that it would be harmless as far as injuring the crops irrigated would be concerned. In fact, it is stated that instead of damaging the crops irrigated the comparatively small quantity of copperas dissolved in so much irrigating water and sewage would undoubtedly have an excellent effect as a fertilizer.

both for refunding and for improvement purposes shall be at 5 per cent. or 4½ per cent.

The ordinance calling an election for the former purpose is expected to be taken up for consideration, and there will probably be a discussion on the question of the rate of interest unless the matter is pretty well agreed upon in private conference. Although the ordinance for improvement-bonds has been passed by the Council and gone to the Mayor with the rate of interest fixed at 5 per cent., yet, it is probably not too late for the Council this morning to request the Mayor to return the ordinance without his signature. It is understood there is some talk of doing so.

The special committee of which Councilman Nickell is chairman, to which was referred the communication from a committee appointed by the Associated Charities recommending that certain measures be adopted for providing work for the penniless and idle visitors in the city during the winter months, has not as yet made any report of its investigations nor any recommendation to the Council. The committee will perhaps present some recommendation today.

Another matter which is believed to have an important bearing on the deposits of petroleum on Figueroa street is the contract for piping the zanja along Fremont avenue and Second street, which connects reservoir No. 4, with Westlake Park, and supplies water to the latter.

Bids were received three or four weeks ago for the piping of the zanja, and the committee to which the bids were referred reported recommending the acceptance of the proposal of H. C. Register. There was a disagreement regarding the placing of sand about the pipe as a protection from damage from the alkali soil. It was claimed there should be an external conting of sand about the pipe as a protection from damage from the chamical influence of the proposal of H. C. Register. There was a disagreement regarding the placing of sand about the pipe as a protection from damage from the chamical influence of the soil. The matter, went to a committee, and thought the flow of water in the arroyo would cease except in time of storm. There would of course be no oil carried in the arroyo while there was no flow of water, and the discharge of oil in the Fifth Ward, except in time of rains, would be stopped.

Petroleum Deposits A FIFTH-WARD DELEGATION WAITS ON COUNCILMAN TEED.

The deposits of oil on Figueroa stree seem to be somewhat more serious than they appeared to be from the necessarily hasty examination made Wednesday night. Not only was the oil carried to Washing-Not only was the oil carried to Washington street, but it was carried on to Jefferson, where a considerable quantity was left. Beyond there the flow of storm water carried it to the point at the southern city limits, where the graded portion of the street ends. At that place the water backed up for a distance of about three hundred feet and gradually seeped away, leaving a coating of the black liquid on the street and new curbing over a considerable surface.

away, leaving a coating of the black liquid on the street and new curbing over a considerable surface.

An investigation of the neighborhood of the oil wells makes it appear that the wash of oil into the arroyo is not going to be as bad as at first feared.

Where there are puddles of it the action of rain will naturally be to fill the depressions with water and exclude the oil, which will be made to run to lower places. The wash of oil that has always been about the wells does not, however, seem to be as bad as was expected. The oil, where it soaks into the ground, forms a sort of cake, which when wet hardens and retains the oil instead of permitting it to be washed away by the action of the water. This fact is stated to be a surprise to some of the men who have had a good deal of experience in the Pennsylvania oil region, they not having seen the same effect of water on the oil developed there.

A small delegation of residents of the Fifth Ward waited on President Teed of the City Council yesterday and urged that something be done to afford relief from the nuisance caused by the oil being deposited in that neighborhood.

City Hall Notes. Fred Eaton has filed a petition, asking that he permitted to withdraw from the protest against abandoning Figueroa street, between Sixth and Pico streets. This morning is the regular time for the weekly meeting of the Board of Public Works. On account of the adjourned session of the City Council the meeting may not be held till tomorrow.

The Courts. AN ORDER AS TO THE CUSTODY OF PAPERS.

The following order in regard to the custody of papers was made by all the judges of the Superior Court pesterday and spread upon the minutes: "It is ordered that rule No. 20 of this court be, and the same is, hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Upon the order of a judge of this court any exhibit may be taken from the files upon leaving in its place a certified copy thereof.

"Unless otherwise ordered, an attorney at law entitled to practice in this court, and having an office in the city of Los Anxeles, upon giving his receipt therefor, may be allowed to take to such office, but not elsewhere, any paper on file in a matter in which he is interested, to be returned within a period not exceeding ten days; but this privilege shall not apply to bonds, undertakings, or wills, nor to original contracts filed as to the foundation of an action or defense.

"Except as above provided, no record or paper belonging to the files of this court shall be taken from the office of the clerk or out of his custody."

ACQUITTED IN SHORT ORDER,

In Department One yesterday morning Edward 'Loomis "appeared before Judge Smith and a jury to answer to the charge of having committed burglary on Septem-ber 9 last, but was acquitted in short or-of aving committed surgiary on September 9 last, but was acquitted in short order.

It was shown for the prosecution that on the date mentioned Milton K. Young, Esq., an attorney of this city, went down to Santa Monica for a dip in the Pacific Ocean, and, upon going to the North Beach bath-house was assigned to dressing-room No. 107. It being cold, Young did not remain in the water very long and, upon returning to his room, he noticed the defendant coming out of it. As he had tried and found it securely locked before leaving the bath-house Young's suspicion was aroused; but Loomis stated that he bad found the door open and was simply closing it when detected. Upon discovering that some 35 worth of silver had been abstracted from his clothing Young caused Loomis's arrest, and a similar sum, of like denomination, was found upon his person.

While the circumstances were suspicious, there was no evidence to show beyond a doubt that Loomis had committed the theft, and in view of his previous unblemished reputation, the jury acquitted him.

THE WHITTIER-JOHNSTON SUIT.

Judge Van Dyke was occupied in Department Four yesterday with the trial of the case of W. F. Whittler vs. Hancock M. Johnston, an action to recover $45,-$76.83, alleged to be due upon twenty promissory notes, and for an order foreclosing $978 shares of the capital stock of the Lake Hemet Water Company, and $978 shares of the capital stock of the Lake Hemet Land Company, pledged as security for the payment of said notes.

The defendant claims that not only is the action barred by the statute of limitations, but that each and all of said notes were executed with the distinct understanding that payment thereof should not be demanded by plaintiff or anyone else, but that they should be repaid out of defendant's share of the profits accruing, from time to time, through the operations of said corporations in the rental and sales of water and land.

Furthermore, by way of cross-complaint, the defendant avers that an agreement was entered into between himself and plaintiff by the terms of which it was agreed that he should advance all the money necessary to meet all assessments which might be levied on the other's stock, which was one-tent of the entire capital stock, for two years, at the end of which time he was to be refunded. It is also intimated that the stock in controversy had been fraudulently converted by plaintiff to his own use; defendant therefore asks judgment for $150,000, the value thereof.

At the close of the evidence the måter was ordered submitted upon briefs.

Valentine Melay, charged with grand larceny, and Thomas Averill, charged with assault, when called upon to plead in Department One yesterday morning, entered their respective pleas of guilty, whereupon Judge Smith ordered that they reappear for sentence tomorrow morning.

The old case of D. Burbank et al. vs. L. W. Dennis et al. was revived in Department Two yesterday; a motion to offset the judgment entered therein, coming up for hearing before Judge Clark, by whom, at the close of the argument, it was taken under advisement.

When the divorce suit of Sarah Jane Boyd vs. C. J. Boyd came up for hearing before Judge Clark in Department Two yesterday morning, the plaintiff's complaint was so ambiguous that the court continued the matter, so as to allow of its being amended.

Argument on the motion for judgment in accordance with the verdict of the Jury in the Pratt will case was resumed in the Probate Court yesterday morning, Senator

White and J. S. Chapman, Esq., present-ing the matter on behalf of the contestants and Alex Campbell, Esq., for the pro-ponents. Upon the submission of the matter to the court it was taken under advisement.

Judge York tried the case of H. E. Potter vs. J. F. Crank et al., an action to foreclose a mortgage, yesterday morning, and at the close of the evidence, ordered judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $6772.83, as prayed.

New Suits. Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the prelimmary papers in the following new cases: Gregory Perkins, Jr., vs. J. M. Terlutter et al., action to foreciose a mortgage on let 32, block 208, Redondo Beach, for Baker Iron Works vs. W. A. Stratton; action to recover $456.25 and interest, alleged to be due on a note.

Ira Phillips vs. S. A. Carrett et al., action to foreclose a mortgage on a lot on Upper Main street, for $2000.

G. Le Mesnager vs. Mrs. L. M. Robarts, executrix, et al., action to quiet title to two lots on New High street.

P. R. Moore vs. Mary A. Shaw et al., action to foreclose a mortgage on three lots in Wooley's addition to Downey, for $1000.

Oliver C. Bryant vs. H. H. Benedict, action to compel the execution of a convey-ance of two tracts of land in the west end. Sylvanus White vs. B. Bassell et al., action to foreclose a mortgage on ten acres of land in section 31, township 6, north, range 11 west, for $500.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

THE WEEKLY MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

An Active Canvass for New Members to be Resumed—The Exhibit is Still Attracting Much Attention.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. There were present the fol-lowing directors: Freeman, Forman, Stim-son, Francisco, Cohn, Eisen, Severance, Mullen, McGarvin, Klokke, Jones.

The secretary reported on the condition of the finances of the chamber that when seventy more members were obtained the organization would be in a satisfactory condition, and that at least two-thirds of active canvass until the required number was secured. The following were elected to membership: Henry A. Darling, H. C. Wyatt, D. P. Hatch, Southern California

Wyatt, D. P. Hatch, Southern California Lumber Company, Lewis Thorne.

A communication was read from George W. Parsons, delegate of the chamber to the Transmississippi Congress, reporting what he had accomplished at the meeting of that body, and, on motion, the thanks of the chamber were tendered Mr. Parsons for his services there, and his action in presenting a resolution in favor of the improvement of the outer harbor of San Pedro was, on motion, approved. Pedro was, on motion, approved.

Pedro was, on motion, approved.

A communication was read from D. Edson Smith, secretary of the Southern Callfornia. Pomological Society, asking that a committee be appointed from the chamber to confer with a committee from their organization with regard to inviting the members of the American Pomological Society, which is to meet in Sacramento in January, to visit Southern California. It was moved and carried that the California of December be fixed as the date for a meeting of the chamber at which nominations shall be made for officers and directors. The board then, on motion, adjourned.

Additional new members have recently journed.

Additional new members have recently been brought in by the following: W. C. Patterson, George Gebhardt, Hancock Banning, M. F. O'Dea, G. G. Johnson, E. F. C. Klokke, T. D. Stimson, O. Pooley, R. B. Young (2.)

NOTES.

During the rainy hours of Tuesday the exhibit hall and reading-rooms were well filled with visitors, the register showing people from Kansas, Colorado, South Dakota, Washington, England, Florida, Ohio, New Jersey, Oregon, Wyoming, Missouri, Illinois and New York.

The art gallery is now open for the month of December with Mrs. Dow as custodian. Many new pictures have been added to the collection and a portfolio of water colors placed in the room. Catalogues and any information desired regarding the pictures can be had by applying to the custodian.

New exhibits have been placed in position from the Arroyo Grande Agricultural Association, Arroyo Grande, San Luis Obispo county, consisting of ten varieties of apples, three varieties of pears, Burbank potatoes weighing three pounds each, squashes 200 pounds each, onlons four pounds, carrots six pounds, cabbage twenbeating his wife, and was found guilty of the charge. He will be sentenced tomor-row at 12 m. The judge ordered them both to appear, and it is probable the man will have his sentence suspended pending good behavior.

Matthews called yesterday at the Times office and submitted a number of letters tending to show his good character and the bad character of his wife. From the statements made it would appear that quar-rels and fights between the couple are of 'common occurrence, and that the present trouble is nothing new for them.

SENTENCE PASSED. The A. R. U. Strikers Must

Pay the Penalty. Eighteen Months in Jail and a Nom-inal Fine Im-

The Only Mitigating Circumstance was that the Offense was Com-mitted in a Time of Much Excitement.

In the United States District Court yesterday Philip Stanwood, W. H. Clune, Isaac Roes and A. T. Johnson, the officers of the local branch of the A.R.U., recently convicted of having entered into a conspiracy to obstruct the passage of the United States mails on all trains of the Southern Pacific Company in June Isst, appeared before Judge Ross to receive sentence and were fined in the nominal sum of $1$ and committed to the County Jail for eighteen months each.

When the case was called at 10:30 o'clock the defendant Johnson failed to respond to his name, but United States District Attorney Denis informed the court that upon being informed by Dr. Wing that the defendant was sick, he had sent a carriage down to the County Jail for Johnson, from down to the County Jail for Johnson whom he had received the following which was read to the court:

whom he had received the following letter, which was read to the court:

COUNTY JAIL, Dec. 6, 189$.

George Denis, Eq., United States District Attorney—Dear Sir: I do not wish to be included in the appeal motions being made. I desire that my sentence be given me so that I may serve it without further loss of time. Would you kindly say as much to Judge Ross and have the matter straightened out. Respectfully yours,

H. T. JOHNSON.

On behalf of the other defendants G. W. Holton, Esq., moved the court in arrest of judgment, and to set aside the verdict and grant them a new trial upon purely technical grounds, and W. T. Williams, Esq., followed with a lengthy argument in support of said motions.

Gen. Johnstone Jones, who was to have argued the motion upon the evidence, was unable to do so, as the transcript of the testimony taken at the trial was missing, and a recess was thereupon ordered until 1:30 o'clock.

Just as Judge Ross was about to leave the bench, Johnson appeared in custody of Deputy Marshal Goodrich, and on account of his illness, the court consented to pass sentence upon him immediately. In doing so Judge Ross remarked that the offense with which the defendant had been convicted was a very grave one, and was punishable with imprisonment in the penitentiary for two years and a fine of $1000, but inasmuch as it was committed in a time of great excitement, he did not feel disposed to disgrace the defendant by sending him to the State prison, but would order that he pay a fine of $1 and be imprisoned in the County Jail for the term of eighteen months.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Upon reconvening for the afternoon session, Gen. Jones argued the case for an Court.

At the conclusion of the argument Judge Ross denied both motions, remarking that he was satisfied the law was applicable to the case at bar, and that the evidence was amply sufficient to justify the verdict.

W. T. Williams, Esq., by leave of the court, then addressed Judge Ross in mitigation of the sentence at considerable length, and at the close of his speech sentence was pronounced as above stated, the court intimating that had the defendants belonged to the criminal class they would certainly have been sent to the penitentiary.

Meeting of the Riverside Trustees

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 6.—(Special Correspondence.) The City Trustees met in regular monthly session Tuesday afternoon, a full board being present. The jewelers of the city petitioned that the license fee for auctioneers of jeweler, watches, etc., be made $15 per day, and the matter was placed in the hands of the Committee on Collegeage.

Ordinares.

The City Marshal collected last month, according to the report rendered, $438s. The City Attorney reported that he was of the opinion that because of the protonged non-use of the tracks by the car companies on Bighth and Wainut stheets, the franchises had been forfeited, "but that it must first be so decided by the Superior Courf, and the most effective and speedy remedy would be by a suit in ejectment at the instance of the city of Riverside." Since the matter was referred to the City Attorney the cars have started up on these lines. The matter of the additional franchises for street cars came up and reports were received from the Street Superintendent as to width of streets. Superintendent as to width of streets superintendent as to width of streets and from the City Attorney as to the points of law involved. The discussion brought out a number of points that should be considered before granting the proposed franchises. Would part of the present line be abandoned? If so, there would be an injustice done persons purchassing property along the present line in order to have this means of transportation. The matter of transfers for school children should be arranged so that the promise of the car company could be enforced. It was also thought that should the companies be given franchiseas asked, they be required to widen the streets to the full width laid out; be required to sprinkle between the rails, and be compelled to place a plank of a specified width along, the outside of the rails, and full with the too of them. A committee of three, consisting of Trustees Morse and Bordwell and City Attorney Purington, was appointed to draft an ordinance for granting the franchise.

ORANGE COUNTY.

THE FINAL BEPORT OF THE

No Indiotments Found, but Many Valuable Recommendations Made 13, as the Result of the Investigation.

SANTA ANA, Dec 6.—(Special Correspondence.) The grand jury, which was impaneled and received its instructions from Judge Towner, November 12, has completed its investigations into the condition of public affairs in Orange county, and its final report was filed this morning. Though nothing of a startling or sensational character is brought to light, it contains some matters of interest to the public, and shows that the work of the grand jury was attended to in a careful and intelligent manner.

In regard to violations of law, the report says that several cases were called to the attention of the body, and all were thoroughly investigated, but in no instance was sufficient cause found to warrant an indictment.

The books and accounts of the county officers, the city officers of Santa Ana. City Board of Education, Justices of the Peace, public libraries, etc., etc., were all examined by committees of the grand jury, assisted by competent experts, and, with few exceptions, are found to be in good shape and properly kept. The Assessor is criticised for failure to place certain county books at night in the vault provided by the county for that purpose. The report says: "As the vault was built for the safe-keeping of county books and documents, and the offices of the Assessor, Tax Collector and Superintendent of Schools were removed to their present quarters to get them convenient to the vault, we can see no excuse for this carelessness on the part of the officers."

The Assessor's action in the matter of the assessment of R. J. Blee's property is also mentioned with disapproval. This land was sold by Mr. Blee to the city of Santa. Ana for school purposes, the deed being given in June, after the land had been assessment list of the Beet by the County for the matter of the passessment fact that most of them are credited by the County Treasurer with turning over more money than they claim credit for. The report says that 'since a certain ruling of the Superior Court of Orange county to the effect that Justices of the Pe guilty, who approves of such action, and enters the money so received upon his docket as sines imposed without the formality of a trial.

The indigent list contains some interesting items. The number of indigents at present is sixty-eight. Of this number 55 per cent, americans, and Happer cent; of other nationalities. The limpunt paid out per month is $55.27, an increase of $125.27 per month over last year; In addition to this amount, $725 has been paid out for cases reported to be special and urgent.

The bridges throughout the county are found to be in fair condition, with certain exceptions, which are noted. The absence of notices warning against fast driving is mentioned, and the placing of such signs on all bridges recommended.

The public thoroughfares throughout the county have received careful notice, and various improvements are suggested in their condition, which is found to be bad in many places. The Supervisors are charged with favoritism in the expenditure of road funds, which it is thought has resulted in less benefit to the roads than the public had a right to expect. The attention of the Assemblyman-elect is called to the necessity for the repeal of the present road law, and the enactment of a more practical one.

The opinion of the jury in regard to the road law, and the pury in regard to the work done on the Santa Ana River bed to prevent its overflow during high water is that it will afford only temporary relief, and that no permanent benefit will be derived from the expenditure unless the channel is opened and kept open the en-tire distance to the ocean. The amount already expended upon this undertaking character is opened and kept open the entire distance to the ocean. The amount aiready expended upon this undertaking is over $15,000.

The County Jail was visited, and some improvements in the line of better sanitary condition and bedding are thought necessary. The Anaheim City Jail is characterised as a diagrace to the city, by reason of a lack of ventilation and sanitation.

A number of candidates at the last election are named who failed to file statements of their campaign expenses in accordance with the purity of election law. They are mostly candidates who got few votes, and evidently did not consider the part they took in the election of sufficient importance to make their statements of any interest to the public.

It is the sense of the grand jury that in the interest of the citizens of Orange county the Board of Supervisors, and the city councils of incorporated cities should confer together in order to devise, if possible, some solution of the tramp nuisance in the county.

A complete set of new maps for the county offices is recommended as one of the greatest needs.

The report is signed by B. C. Barker, foreman; J. Wiley Harris, Theodore Staley, H. Wrede, A. L. Dearing, Silas Wright, Samson Edwards, W. H. Marquis, J. C. Joplin, E. F. Wright, Nap Donovan, C. E. French, J. L. Forbes, J. D. Price, John Avas, D. B. Newell, W. T. Reed, D. G. McClay and C. H. Best.

There were four bids submitted, and representatives of three of the firms bidding were present. The bids were all more or less ambiguous, and the bidders attempted to make explanations of their respective bids. The bids were as follows: D. Kirkpatrick, $31,500; Riley, Loane & Thornton, $33,850; D. P. N. Little, $34,900; Denver & Chisholm, $35,787. A portion of the bidders claim that their bids include furnishing granite steps, but the District Attorney ruled that, as the advertisement did not call for bids for steps, a contract cannot be let for these. Also, that the bids did not specify the prices for each of the separate propositions. The matter went over till Monday.

"THROUGH THE LINES."

From pit to ceiling the operahouse was packed Tuesday night with the friends of Co. E. N.G.C., and of those assisting them in the performance, together with quite a contingent who went solely for the purpose of seeing a good performance. It is safe to say that not one in that vast audience left feeling he "hadn't got his money's worth." The thrilling military drama, "Through the Lines," is one of those plays well adapted to amateur performance, though possessing many situations in which an actor of merit may make an excellent presentation, and rarely did the performers last night let slip any such opportunity. From the moment the curtain rose, captivating the audience in the start, to the finale, interest did not lag and applause followed applause. The play, both in substance and the manner in which it was presented, far surpassed the one presented by Co. E last year. "THROUGH THE LINES."

When H. B. Milton and other carpenters and joiners went to Cummings's mills to work yesterday moraing, they found a large number of tools missing, the estimated value being about $30. They were stolen from the mill after working hours last night, and as soon as discovered the theft was reported to the police. Officer Heaps took hold of the case, found that a part of the tools had been sold to Megil, of whom he got a description of the man. At the Santa Fe depot a man answering the description was seen to put some things in a wagon and drive off. Hastening to Colton, he found his man and recovered all the goods. The thief gives his name as M. Slawson. He worked for two and a half days at Whitney's mill, in this city. He was formerly a lumberman on the Columbia River.

More About the Gold Discoveries in the Mountains.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Dec. 6. — (Special Correspondence.) The gold quartz which was brought in yesterday by the veteran that had been lost in the Santa Monica Mountains, mentioned in this correspondence yesterday, has proven to be very rich of a purely high grade. After con-rable trouble of running to and fro, siderable trouble of running to and fro, the man that had been lost and came so near losing his life by exposure, was found. Nothing of a serious nature is the matter with him, and as soon as his skinned feet and sore legs have time to heal up, he will be out. He says that he could easily have found himself and came heal up, he will be out. He says that he could easily have found himself and came home, but that he is partially blind and very hard of hearing, and he was so far away that he attributed the sound of the locomotive to a roaring in his head. Strange as it may seem, he says that he never felt any great fangs of hunger and thirst, although he was totally without food for five days, and as much as half that time without water.

The quartz that he exhibited is of two kinds, found in different places during his wanderings, and one is a decomposed fron quartz, and the other a cream-colored spar. Both show gold, but the man says that if he never finds the places where he found the specimens, it will be purely by accident. He says, however, that he is going to make the attempt as soon as he is able, for he believes that rich deposits of gold exist in both places. He would know the ground immediately about the spot where he found it, but says outside of that the hills and gulches all look alike.

On the second day of his wanderings he of that the hills and guiches all look alike.

On the second day of his wanderings he abandoned his pick and shovel and left them at the foot of a gum sapiling, and he thinks that if he can find this piace he can find where he got the ore. A number of veterans have become interested in the story of his find, and will return to the mountains with him and ald him in the endeavor to find what he considers a bonanza deposit of gold.

The veteran is an old-time miner on the Pacific Coast, and he avers that his judgment cannot go very wide of the mark in guessing at the probable value of a piece of rock.

—(Printer's Ink. The largest exclusive shoe house in this city (The Mammoth Shoe House) is having a great shoe sale now, and people seem to appreciate the low prices in reliable foot-wear. The proprietors, Messrs. Olcovich Bros., are determined to close out all their present stock by the end of the year, and start 1895 with an entirely new stock of footwear. Whatever is not sold by that time will be sold in a lump to some dealer or shipped. Everybody-is invited to call whether they buy or not. Obliging clerks will readily show their goods. The store is so busy now that extra clerks have been hired for the occasion. Call now while the assortment is complete. MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

FRIGHTFUL TRAGEDY ON THE CHAPMAN BANCH.

A Mexican Killed During a Drunke Carousal—The Body Shockingly
Mutilated by the Bloody Miscreants.

The horribly-mutilated body of a dead Mexican was found yesterday morning in one of the ranch houses on the Chapman ranch at San Gabriel. Word was sent from Lamanda Park to the Sheriff and Coroner, and Sheriff Cline with Deputy Frank Coch-ran, departed for the scene of the tragedy as soon as possible.

A telephone message from the Chapman ranch gave only meager details of the occurrence, and Sheriff Cline could give but little additional information upon his return. The affair is shrouded in mystery. The body was found lying on the floor with evidences of a severe struggle all about 4t. Broken pieces of bestias, a whisky jug and numerous other articles were scattered around, and the man's neck and head were slashed in a fearful manner. The jugular vein had been cut, and it is easy to suppose that the man died of knife wounds and gashes from the sharp edges of the broken bottle. The Mexican was undoubtedly killed in a drunken fight between a crowd of Mexican ranch hands, as a party of them were carousing in the ranch house the night of the murder. The men were very hilarious, and their boisterous shouts and laughter was heard at the Chapman residence; then they were heard quarreling and fighting, but no shots were heard. After the fighting there was deep silence, and it is presumed that the other Mexicans became aware that a man had been killed so silently decamped. A telephone message from the Chapma deep sience, and it is presumed that the other Mexicans became aware that a man had been killed so silently decamped.

Nothing was learned from any of them yesterday, and the identity of the man is yet unknown. The Chapmans do not know him, and said he was not one of the hands employed on the ranch.

Fire in an Exhibition Hall.

An alarm from box No. 31 at the corner of Second and Spring streets called out the fire department yesterday afternoon in full force. They responded with commendable rapidity, but fortunately the fire was not a serious one and was easily extinguished by hand.

It was in the room at No. 204 South Spring street occupied by J. B. Morris as an exhibition hall, and was caused by the lava tip of a gas jet blowing out so that a large flame blazed up and ignited the curtain that extended across the front of the stage. About $30 worth of damage was done.

The house was full of people, but there was no panic and no one was injured excepting the proprietor. Mr. Morris, who was severely burned on his right hand and elightly singed about the face. Chief Morriarty called for his medicine chest and relieved the man of his pain by personally applying the necessary remedies.
